against the same ten men for the death of Carman Patya, but no decision has been reached as to whether they are to be tried for it.

The convicted men are James Bavier, Robert Wallace, Frederic Mulien, Frank Rick, John C. Moran, Harry Tone, William McLaughlin, John C Mara and James D. Williams. The tenth man, John C. Smith, was placed on trial, but was discharged by order of the Justice when no witness could identify him as having been among the guards who fired at the strikers. The shooting for which the guards were convicted was entirely unprovoked, according to all the testimony. Revoral hundred strikers from the fertilizing plants at Roosevelt went to the station on the morning in question to see if a certain train brought a strike-brenkers, it did not. They eare about to disperse when the guards opened fire. Alexandro Tessitors and Carman Fatya were killed and fifty men were wounded.

There are in the prison at New Brunewick Effect more guards charged with having participated in the siaughter of strikers. They, too, will be tried on the Tessitore indictiments, but a data has not been set for their trial.
